Your lasting legacy

Imagine a future where women have the opportunity to build successful businesses, provide for their families and create brighter futures for their children.

A future where communities can thrive, and the impact of one opportunity can continue from one generation to the next.

By leaving a gift to MicroLoan Foundation in your Will, you can help make that future possible, ensuring your support continues to create opportunities for women, their families and their communities for generations to come.

We will continue working towards a world where women are empowered and have the tools and skills to build better futures for themselves and their families. When considering your legacy, we hope you share our vision.

Your gift to MicroLoan Foundation will support women in Malawi, Zambia, Zimbabwe and South Africa, to build successful businesses and create brighter futures for themselves, their families and their communities. Through access to loans, training and mentoring, women can strengthen their businesses, increase their incomes and build a more secure future for generations to come.

Every day, women like Emeldah can provide for their families. Her income can help pay for clothes, medicine and her children's education, so her family can look towards the future with greater security.

Your gift can create an impact beyond your lifetime, helping families move towards self-sufficiency and creating opportunities that can benefit generations to come.

With over 97% of loans repaid, your donation can be recycled to reach more women over the years, helping create lasting and sustainable change.

Your next steps

Create a lasting legacy by leaving a gift in your Will. Your support will continue to make a difference for years to come, and all it takes is a conversation with your solicitor.

After providing for your loved ones, you might consider two types of gift to support a cause that is important to you: a 'residuary legacy', a percentage of what remains of your estate after all other gifts and expenses have been paid, or a 'pecuniary legacy', a gift of a set amount.

How you choose to leave a gift in your Will depends on your personal preferences and circumstances. Your solicitor will ensure that your estate is distributed in the way you want.
